INTRODUCTION.

To the Taxpayers and Voters of the Town:—

We herewith respectfully submit our report. We are pleased to state, that by a vote of the town, empowering the Selectmen and Treasurer to "hire money in anticipation of taxes," we have been able to pay all bills promptly, thereby leaving no outstanding accounts against the town for the fiscal year ending February 15th.

In accordance with a vote of the town "for the Selectmen to make settlement with all delinquent tax collectors up to the year 1893," we have attended to that duty and have made a final settlement with all of them, as shown in the report elsewhere.

In the matter of an apparent deficiency of $497 00, in the Road Surveyor's accounts for the year 1893-4, we find that this amount was for orders issued by him and not presented to the Selectmen for payment; as already $209 58 of such orders have been presented to us for settlement, and we believe the balance will be accounted for in like manner in the near future. We, therefore, believed it to be a matter of economy not to incur further expense to the town by the appointment of auditors for such purpose.

As to the financial standing of the town we respectfully refer to the Treasurer's report. As to the doings of the Selectmen and other town officers, we refer to their several reports.

To the taxpayers of Berlin:—

In looking through a published report of town and county paupers one of the most natural things to do is to find some bill, perhaps not large in itself, and discuss it. Now I ask the reader before forming an opinion and expressing it, to first make himself familiar with the circumstances, and get an explanation from the proper person, the Overseer of the Poor, which in all cases will be willingly furnished. I believe a report of this kind should be judged, not by any single item, but by the total expenditures for the year.

In starting out for the year 1894, I felt confident that the bills would be even smaller than the year preceding, but I found even more applications for assistance, and a great deal of actual poverty. It is not exactly an enviable office, and it is often hard to determine what is best to be done. When a person applies for assistance he usually brings all his relatives, and expects everything to be done that he asks for, and "right off, that he has paid his two dollars and thirty cents poll tax, and the town owes him any support for himself and family he may ask." The position of overseer of the poor is to stand between these people and the town. The town poor bills are smaller than the preceding year, and the county bill about the same. Any county pauper that could be safely moved I have myself taken to the county farm. The heaviest county bills are for medical services. I believe it would be a saving to the county to let this out by the year. The care of Sam. Odette and family, town charges, seems an almost hopeless one for the town. Last summer he was taken to West Stewartstown insane, and boarded. After two months he was so much improved he was allowed to return. He is unable to do any work, and in my opinion will never be any better, and the best course to pursue is to take care of them here as cheaply as possible, rather than to board the family at the county farm. The bill for feeding tramps which occurs in the county charges, may seem large, but not so when you consider that we have from fifty to one hundred of them every month. The police take them from the streets, lodge them one night in the lockup, give them one meal, and take them to the outskirts of the town, and, pointing northward, tell them "to emigrate."

This year there are no justice's fees paid for taking affidavits. The pauper bill for the town of Berlin is the smallest of any town in the county, considering the size, and is less than of some towns that are smaller, and in my settlements with the board of commissioners there has not been a cut down in a single bill.

In presenting my bill to the town for services I would say I have charged as near as possible for the actual time used. The town pauper bill, $342 68, does not represent a large expenditure of money, but a great deal of work keeping it within that limit. I believe with good management the pauper bills can be kept about where they are at present.

In conclusion I wish to thank those who have contributed personally, clothing, etc., as it has been a great help, and possibly saved some money being expended.

Respectfully submitted.

A. B. FORBUSH,

Overseer of the Poor.

REPORT OF BOARD OF HEALTH.

To the taxpayers of Berlin :

The Board of Health submit the following as a report for the year last past. The town has been very free from diseases referable to local causes, with no epidemics during the year. Your board advised that the keeping of a dumping ground at the town's expense be abandoned and the selectmen, after consultation, decided to do so, thereby saving an expense of nearly $100.00 annually, after a few weeks, by enforcing the law in a few cases, all have taken care of their rubbish and the Gorham road has been comparatively if not entirely free from the nuisance of former years.

The board inspected the whole village in April, May, June, July and August and sections of the town many times besides, each week, until cold weather came on. They served eighty-eight personal notices on parties where the conditions were believed to be bad and followed up the notices with good results. We would recommend extension of sewers on the west side of Grand Trunk railroad, and on the extension of High street, and behind the high school building. The board have endeavored to create a sentiment, and encourage by frequent visits and advice to householders and tenants the necessity and safety of keeping the premises and surroundings in a sanitary condition, and now as a rule they anticipate the inspections and take pride in showing the board the clean condition of their premises. The work must be kept up, but with the present disposition to do their part among our citizens, with the sewer system extended somewhat, we would recommend that one efficient person acting in conjunction with the selectmen would be sufficient and the pay be such as to command his best endeavors in the line of his duty.

The following is taken from the town clerk's book, showing the deaths for four years past by epidemic diseases :

	1891.	1892.	1893.	1894.
Diphtheria,	22,	6,	0,	0.
Typhoid fever,	9,	7,	5,	1.

Since sewers were constructed and the regulations of the board of health enforced there has been the above result.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK A. COLBY, M. D.,	} Board of

REPORT OF LIBRARY TRUSTEES.

To the Selectmen of Berlin :

GENTLEMEN :—The trustees of the free public library herewith submit their second annual report. We are glad to call your attention to the evidence of the increasing usefulness of our library, found in the report of the Librarian, to which you are referred for particulars in regard to circulation, and other details of administration. Since our last report was made, the number of volumes has nearly doubled, and the circulation has notably increased. There seems to be a deplorable lack of union between the schools and the library, which ought not to exist. This arises from several causes, one of which is the too prevalent, but false idea that the library is merely a collection of story books, chiefly useful for amusement in one's leisure hours. Nothing could be further from the truth. The aim of a public library is to furnish information on any and all subjects, and that end is constantly in view of the trustees and librarian. Books are purchased with the intent of providing the public with something on every reasonable topic, from cats to hypnotism. Of course, this can't be done at once, but it is being accomplished gradually. Teachers, especially of the higher grades, should train their pupils to consider the library as a repository of information, a place where given subjects may be "looked up." Of course, as the trustees are well aware, this could be done at present only to a limited extent, but it would be well to make a beginning—such calls on the library would be a stimulus in the healthiest direction possible—a stimulus which the library managers would be only too glad to obey. Later, it would demand more room, tables and shelves especially devoted to this work. At present, nothing of this kind is done. Most of the frequenters of the library call for the latest novel, and seem to consider that the furnishing of such books is the be all and end-all of the library's existence. Oftentimes, children discontinue their use of the library, giving as a reason that "school has begun." To us it seems that such a reason is the strongest possible one for frequenting the library, instead of ignoring it. It is hoped that teachers will actively co-operate with the trustees during the coming year in remedying this state of affairs, and in placing our library in a position which will render it an indispensable adjunct to our school system.

Another subject should be brought to your notice. Before another report is issued, the library at Berlin Mills will be incorporated with the one at the lower village, if the conditions favor. This will at once increase the number of volumes to about 2000. Of course this will necessitate additional shelf room, and double the labor of the librarian. Further, it will be necessary to publish a new catalogue or finding-list as soon as possible after the libraries are consolidated. We are also compelled to increase the number of hours per week during which the library is open. Miss Johnson thinks that two additional evenings will meet the demands for some time to come. Each one of these items, additional shelf room, additional opening hours, and a new catalogue, means increased expense, to which we would invite your serious attention, but when we reflect that the town is

The past year shows an increased amount of business, despite the difficulties under which we have labored—those consequent upon the remodeling of the building in which the library is located. The rooms were closed from Aug. 22 to Sept. 29, 12 library days, with the result that many lost their interest in borrowing books, thus decreasing the circulation. Only 53 books were given out in September. This lowers the average very much, and manifestly makes any statistics based thereon for the year, deceptive and misleading. The rooms are not even now in permanent shape. Had we known that so long a time must elapse before they could be ready for us, it would, perhaps, have been wise to remove the books to other quarters temporarily.

The annual examination in July showed the condition of the volumes, as a whole, to be good. Only one volume was missing, traced to a family who moved from town. It has been replaced. At the present time, some fifteen or twenty books need rebinding at once, and have been withdrawn from circulation till that is done.

The total number of volumes issued during the year has been 3,225. Our population, in round numbers, is 6,000. Thus, the ratio of circulation to population is about 1-2 per capita. As I have said before, the irregular manner in which the library has been kept open this year, invalidates any statistics for the time, and the ratio is, on that account, a false one. Still, it is not far out of the way—possibly 2-3 would be nearly correct. This is very low. According to figures from Massachusetts, the average ratio there is 1 3-4 to 2 1-4. I have thought best to state these facts, for the sake of future comparison, as the ratio will certainly rise, as the library extends its influence, and this is the only method by which any library can gauge its usefulness in the community.

Respectfully submitted,

HATTIE L. JOHNSON, Librarian.

To the Citizens of the Town of Berlin:—

In submitting our report for the fiscal year just ended, we would call attention to the fact that the new law requires the school report to be a part of the town report, and in obedience to it we must close our books fifteen days before the usual time. This and the added fact that the Cole and Berlin Mills primaries were about four weeks late in starting at the beginning of the year, accounts for the balance accompanying our financial re-

Though the books are closed for the year, schools still continue to be in session, and at the end of the term, which is four weeks from date, this balance will have been consumed.

We are pleased to report a fairly successful year, but the word "improvement" is still written in letters all too plain over every school-room in Berlin, first and foremost in management. By this, be it understood, is not meant the teachers, for all credit is due them for unselfish and loyal work, but those who have the teachers in charge— the school board—the body, who, however sufficient may have considered themselves in the past, have of late experienced certain feelings of insufficiency.

Not in the least depreciating our qualifications, for the duties devolving on a School Board proper, but dwelling on that part which, in a well organized school system, should fall to its legitimate possessor—Superintendent of Schools.

In a country town where the duties are less arduous, possibly there may be no call for a Superintendent, but according to our census Berlin is no longer a country town, but is increasing to such proportions that there is a gradual call for a city charter. In its blooming may it not waft a strong educational fragrance.

The average School Board is composed of men and women whose lives are much too full for more than the mere lubrication of machinery to keep things in motion, and indeed very few are qualified, even if time permitted, to deal with strictly educational features. These in all conscience should be left for investigation and suggestion to one whose life's work is to keep touch with the truest and best, and as each new  is introduced, watch over it with such care as shall make an unqualified success.

Apropos to the above, we would suggest as a beginning in this direction that the appropriation be sufficient to cover the expense of an extra assistant in the high school thus giving our principal time for both the duties of principal and superintendent.

This is only the first need. The warrant will call for the completion of the Berlin Mills school.

The wisdom of the suggestion of a new schoolhouse for this district and its ultimate acceptance last year has been more than verified by the crowded condition of the two rooms now occupied by the primary grade,

In the lower primary grade in many cases three scholars are now occupying seats which formerly have been considered only sufficiently large for two. It is uncomfortable for the little ones to say the least, and most trying to the teacher's patience. We need the upper unfinished room finished for primary purposes. Also for this building the sanitary arrangement should be completed and a heating apparatus put in.

To demonstrate the uselessness of the new west side school: We found at the beginning of the year Miss True, the efficient teacher who has charge in that locality, surrounded by fifty or more children with seats for only forty-two. Understand these children in nearly every case belong on the west side of the track. By promoting a few into the intermediate grade and sending a few to the Cole primary, we are able now to report favorable conditions in this school; but this is the winter term and many of the little ones are kept at home.

With the advent of spring we shall find ourselves with insufficient school room and shall ask therefore for the completion of the unfinished room and in addition heating and sanitary arrangements.

The High School proper is fairly comfortable and is admirably managed by Mr. Whittemore and his assistant, Miss Eastman.

The new course of study which admits to Bowdoin and Dartmouth without conditions has sustained itself well.

In regard to the introduction of the study of French in the High School the past year: Suffice it to say that nearly half the school are receiving instructions in that language. The coming year we shall hope to add German to the course.

Our Grammar schools have been somewhat burdened this year, but with good courage on the teachers' part satisfactory work has been done. A careful estimate for next year, however, places sixty scholars in one room and fifty-five in the other.

This looks to us like the establishment of a third grammar school, in which case the intermediates, who now occupy one room of the high school building, must needs be sent out to seek shelter elsewhere.

One more remark in connection with the high school. Looks count for something, and when we stop to consider that it is a question of life or death to the building, we feel perfectly justified in asking for paint, both for the outside and the inside. A small sum too, to be used for the improvement of the grounds would be acceptable.

Leaving the high school building brings us to the most important subject to be considered in the report,—the building of a schoolhouse to take the place of the Cole primary.

A glance at the conditions here: Two teachers have charge of 120 scholars between them,—sixty-five in one room, fifty five in another. Here we have three grades in one room where usually only two grades are cared for. And in the other room three in a seat. This we cannot ask of our teachers another year.

Last year we pointed out the unwholesome conditions which surrounded the present schoolhouse. Things have not improved in the year just passed. This in itself is sufficient reason why we should have a new building. We therefore recommend the building of a four and possibly a five-room schoolhouse, each room to accommodate fifty scholars.

The School Board asked last year for $5000 to build a schoolhouse in the Berlin Mills district. Our suggestion was not accepted, but, instead, a committee was chosen to investigate conditions and plan a building accordingly. It would be difficult to say how much midnight oil was burned by this committee in planning a building to accommodate the needs. That they partially succeeded in their efforts the school board is ready to admit, but without casting any reflection on them, for we appreciate as much as anyone that the financial conditions were serious last year. we cannot refrain from asking the people if this building and the West Side schoolhouse as well, are entirely satisfactory. The question has been answered by private individuals many times in the negative.

Then again we recommended that a $5000 schoolhouse be built this time in the Falls district. This sum will erect such a building as was planned last year—one complete in its appointments, and one which savors of architecture.

But, the matter of housing the scholars has not been the only thing thought of this year. Never in the history of the schools of Berlin have we had so efficient a corps of teachers. Without exception, they have worked with increased interest, not content with the accomplishment of today, but continually striving for something new and better. In consequence the work has been very gratifying.

Our music continues to be a success and a comfort, a comfort in the sense that though it ranks with arithmetic or any other study, as a mental discipline, it at the same time brings with it a sense of relief and enjoyment in the ordinary routine of the day's work. This branch of study is far reaching in its result, its influence being most ennobling.

We still continue to hope for the introduction of drawing, manual training, kindergartening, etc.

A new order of things has been instituted in the care of the schoolhouses. Instead of a boy janitor for each building, as heretofore, one man gives his entire time to the care of all the buildings. The teachers are loud in their praises of this arrangement, and the result financially as well as otherwise has been a complete success.

COURSES OF STUDY AT THE BERLIN HIGH SCHOOL.

The classical course meets the average requirements for admission to college courses leading to the degree of A. B.

By means of special electives preparation may be made for entrance examinations of a higher grade or wider range.

The Latin Scientific course prepares for college courses leading to the degree of Ph. B., B. L., or B. S., and aims to give pupils not preparing for college well balanced training in languages, mathematics and sciences.

The English course substitutes equivalents so far as possible for most of the language work of the other courses,

One foreign language must be studied during the third and fourth years.

A diploma is given at the end of a full course of four years,

Pupils unable to finish a course will receive certificates upon completing one, two or three years' work.

All courses are subject to modification to meet changing conditions.

English.

The work in English will be divided between English and American literature, rhetoric and composition. Declamations, debates and the reading of themes will occupy periods to be reserved for the purpose but not designated in the course of study. So far as possible the entire work of the school will be made to teach the principles of "Good use."

Foreign Languages.

In studying foreign languages, both ancient and modern, ability to get at the meaning of the text is the main object in view. To this end, not as "discipline," the essentials of grammar are to be mastered and composition is to be studied.

Mathematics.

The report of "The Committee of Ten," recently issued by the United States Bureau of Education is regarded as sufficient authority for dropping the greater part of arithmetic from the High School courses. Provision is made for a rapid review of the subject either in the third or fourth year.

Physics and Chemistry.

A part of what is required in these branches will consist of laboratory work by the pupil, the result of which he will record at the time in a laboratory note book. This book will determine largely the pupil's standing.

Astronomy, Geology and Botany.

A part of the time devoted to astronomy, geology and botany will be spent outside of the school-room in the study of the "things themselves."

RULES AND REGULATIONS

A public examination will occur at the end of each term.

Written tests shall be given at the middle and close of each term in the high and grammar schools.

Two declamations or original essays each term, to be given at the morning exercises, shall be required of each pupil during the last two years in the high school.

Whenever in the judgment of the board of education, any pupil cannot profitably continue with his class, or from neglect of duty, any pupil fails to maintain a rank of 75 per cent., in both recitations and examinations, he shall be remanded to the next lower class. Pupils shall be obliged to maintain an average recitation rank of 75 per cent. in all studies before taking examination in the same.

No pupil, who has elected a particular high school course, shall be allowed to change to another after the first year. After the beginning of the second year the course elected must be pursued throughout.

A certificate of promotion shall be issued at the close of each school year to all pupils entitled thereto. No pupil, not having completed the prescribed course in the high school, shall receive a diploma.

Absence from the school must be accounted for by a written excuse from the parents upon return of absentee, and the rank of such pupil shall be zero until the work lost is made up. Any pupil who shall be absent five half days, or tardy five times during the term without a satisfactory excuse from parents or guardian shall be subject to suspension from school for not less than three days and not more than one week, time to be determined by the board of education.

No pupil shall be dismissed during school hours without a written excuse from his parents, except for special reasons.

The first class of the high school shall hold graduating exercises at the close of the school year, the appointments for which shall be made from those maintaining the best average rank during the course.

Tuition scholars shall pay $6 per term, which shall include the use of books, said tuition to be paid at the beginning of each term.

Pupils shall walk quietly up and down stairs and through the halls ; make no loud noise at any time in any part of the building.

Any pupil who shall be guilty of defacing or injuring any school furniture or buildings, inside or out, shall be liable to the civil law.

Teachers shall have general supervision of their respective school-rooms, shall enforce the rules and regulations of the board, give notice of needed repairs, and hold the janitors to a strict performance of their duties.

They shall be in their respective rooms fifteen minutes before the opening of each session, shall commence and close promptly on time, and not allow pupils to remain in the school-room unless under their supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

THE OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF THE ARMY

AUDITORS' REPORT.

We, the undersigned auditors for the town of Berlin, N. H., for the fiscal year ending Feb. 15, 1895, hereby certify that we have examined the accounts of the selectmen, town treasurer, school district treasurer and overseer of the poor, and find the same correctly cast and properly vouched.

We have also examined the accounts of the police court and find an error of $1.15 in the footings in favor of the town. Otherwise the accounts are correct.

We have examined the accounts and vouchers of the tax collector and find that he has paid over to the town treasurer all the money he has collected in said capacity.

We desire to compliment the selectmen and town treasurer on the correct, methodical and business-like manner in which their respective accounts were kept.
